FILING TO BE A CANDIDATE

Becoming a candidate

To become a candidate, a voter must complete and file a Declaration of Candidacy. Voters must, at the time of filing, possess the qualifications specified by law required for the office and must be properly registered to vote in the district represented by the office at the time of filing. Information about residency requirements can be found at the end of this chapter.

To find out which offices you can file for this year, view the Offices Open for Election link on our website. This list includes the offices up for election in 2019, the current incumbent, where to file your Declaration of Candidacy and the filing fee information.

When to file

The candidate filing period begins the Monday two weeks prior to Memorial Day and ends the following Friday.

All Declarations of Candidacy must be received before the close of business on the last day of the filing period. Declarations of Candidacy received after this date, regardless of the postmark, are invalid.

Candidates may file online starting at 9 a.m. on the first day of filing, until 4 p.m. on the last day of filing. Declarations of Candidacy filed in person must be during business hours. Cost to File

Filing fees or filing fee petitions must accompany the Declaration of Candidacy at the time of filing. The filing fee is based on the salary in effect at the time of filing. Candidates can pay the filing fee online using a credit card, debit card or an electronic check. When paying online, a small convenience fee is charged. Candidates filing in person can pay with cash or check only. Candidates may also file online from the Elections office and pay with a credit or debit card.

Filing fees are not refundable, even in the event of a withdrawal. If a candidate withdraws and refiles for a different position, a second filing fee must be paid for the new position.

A candidate who lacks sufficient assets or income at the time of filing to pay the filing fee shall submit with their Declaration of Candidacy a filing fee petition. A candidate submitting a filing fee petition must submit all signatures when filing the Declaration of Candidacy. The Candidate must pay the full filing fee OR submit the petition with the required signatures. No combination of money and signatures is allowed.

To view filing fee information for offices subject to election this year, view the Offices Open for Election on our website. This list includes the offices up for election in 2019, the current incumbent, where to file your Declaration of Candidacy, and filing fee information.

Filing Fee Petitions

If you choose to submit a filing fee petition in lieu of a filing fee, you must submit all signatures at the time you file your Declaration of Candidacy. Candidates cannot supplement the signatures at a later date.

The petition must contain not less than the number of signatures of registered voters equal to the number of dollars of the filing fee. For example, if the filing fee is $461.08, the candidate must submit no less than 461 signatures of registered voters. The signatures must be of voters registered to vote within the jurisdiction for which the candidate is filing.

As a best practice, Douglas County Elections recommends that candidates, who plan to submit a filing fee petition, do so as early as possible during the week of candidate filing. Our office also recommends that you submit at least 25% more signatures than required.

The filing fee petition form can be found on our website.

Getting Ready to File

Before you file for office, you will need to:

- Verify that your voter registration information is current. You can verify your voter registration information online at myvote.wa.gov.
- Verify the office and position for which you are filing. The responsibility for filing for the correct office is yours. Remember, filing fees are not refundable. If you withdraw and refile for a different position, you must pay a second filing fee for the new position.
- Make sure you meet the qualifications for that office. You are responsible for ensuring that you meet all qualifications of the office.
- Decide how you want your name to appear on the ballot.
- If filing for a partisan office, know how you want your party preference information to appear on the ballot.
- Have your campaign contact information ready.

Your Name on the Ballot

When filing for office, input your name exactly as you wish it to appear on the ballot. You may use a nickname by which you are commonly known as your first name, but your last name must be the name under which you are registered to vote. For example, if you are registered to vote as William Smith but are commonly known as Bill, you may use Bill Smith for your ballot name.

You may not use a nickname that denotes present or past occupation or military rank, use a nickname that denotes your position on issues or political affiliation or use a nickname designed to intentionally mislead voters.

Partisan Offices – Party Preferences

For a partisan office, you may choose to state a political party that you personally prefer. A preference does not imply that you have been nominated or endorsed by the party, or that the party approves of or associates with you.

If you choose to state a party preference, enter the name of the party (must be 16 characters or less.) The first letter of the party preference will be capitalized (i.e. Republican.) If you use an acronym or initials, each letter will be capitalized whether or not you use periods, (i.e. GOP or G.O.P.) Your party preference will appear below your name as (“Prefers _____ Party”.)

If you choose not to state a party preference, (“States No Party Preference”) will appear on the ballot.

Make sure you input your party preference exactly as you wish it to appear on the ballot; you cannot make any changes once you submit your Declaration of Candidacy.

No changes to party preference will be accepted between the Primary and General Election.

How to File your Declaration of Candidacy

Filing your Declaration of Candidacy is important and as a best practice, Douglas County Elections recommends that you submit your Declaration of Candidacy as early as possible during filing week. Our office will not accept late submissions.

Once filed, a Declaration of Candidacy may not be altered. If you decide during the filing period to change the Declaration of Candidacy, you must first withdraw and then re-file.

Campaign Contributions

Where to File

Within two weeks of filing that declaration, most candidates must register their campaigns (C-1 report) and disclose personal financial affairs (F-1 report). Note: Exceptions apply in cases where candidates are running for office in small jurisdictions and do not plan to spend more than $5,000.

All candidates need to contact the Washington State Public Disclosure Commission (PDC) directly with any questions regarding the filing of public disclosure documents. We strongly encourage candidates to access all PDC information on their website, www.pdc.wa.gov.

Reporting Options

Candidates who are required to register their campaigns can choose mini or full reporting. Choose wisely - candidates who initially opt for mini reporting but then switch to full reporting face deadlines for doing so and must retroactively document their contributions and expenditures.

Mini reporting is available to candidates who plan to raise and spend no more than $5,000 and who will receive no more than $500 from any one contributor other than themselves. Those candidates do not have to file contribution and expenditure reports, but they must keep records of that activity and allow public inspection of campaign books during the 8 days before an election.

Candidates using mini reporting may not raise more than $5,000 and cannot accept more than $500 from a single donor. Most other candidates face limits on contributions that vary by office sought and type of donor. If a candidate is on the ballot twice (for example, in the Primary and General), the limits apply per election. Additional limits apply in the 21 days before the General Election.

Candidates who choose full reporting must abide by state and local contribution limits, but have no cap on how much they may raise and spend. They also must file their contribution and expenditure reports electronically if they plan on spending more than $5,000.

Candidates who choose full reporting must file reports showing donations, in-kind contributions, expenditures and debt. They face deadlines for making those reports, and the reporting windows shrink as the campaign season progresses.

“The public’s right to know of the financing of political campaigns and lobbying and the financial affairs of elected officials and candidates far outweighs any right that these matters remain secret and private.”

Signs erected on private property that are adjacent to these highways must comply with the Highway Advertising Control Act, rules contained in WAC 468-66, and applicable local agency sign codes.

In accordance with WAC 468-66-050, Sign Classification and Specific Provisions, temporary political campaign signs are identified and regulated as a type of on-premise sign intended to express a property owner's endorsement of a political candidate or initiative. Prior to placing signs, WSDOT recommends checking with the property owner for approval and to determine property line locations. Campaign signs are allowed under the following regulations:

- 1) Temporary political campaign signs are limited to a maximum size of thirty-two square feet.
- 2) Temporary political campaign signs must be removed within ten days following the election.
- 3) Sign installers must have permission of the underlying property owner prior to placing signs.
- 4) Temporary political campaign signs are subject to all other applicable provisions of RCW 47.42 and WAC 468.66 that pertain to Type 3 on-premise signs.

In addition to the above restrictions, the erection of temporary political campaign signs within the right-of-way of all state highways is prohibited. Accordingly, signs placed within the right-of-way of any state highway are subject to removal by the Washington State Department of Transportation.

Also, RCW 47.36.180(1) states in part that it is unlawful to erect any structure, sign, or device visible from a city street, county road, or state highway that simulates any directional, warning, or danger sign likely to be mistaken for such a sign. Therefore, a campaign sign cannot be designated in a manner that resembles an official traffic control sign.

Douglas County Sign Regulations

Political campaign signs are signs, posters, handbills promoting, or publicizing candidates for public office or issues to be voted on in a General or Special election. The context of political campaign signs is limited to matters scheduled for election and does not include general political positions or issues.

Where signs are allowed: DCC 20.44.030 states that political signs are exempt from application, permit, and fee requirements during a campaign; advertises a candidate for public elective office, a political party; or promotes a position of a public issue. Signs must not be posted in a county right-of-way and have to be removed within thirty days following the election.

Illegally-posted signs are a safety hazard: Carelessly placed signs can reduce driver visibility, distract driver's attention from the roadway or force pedestrians and bicyclists into dangerous areas close to the road edge or onto difficult terrain alongside the road shoulder.
